DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Olchansky '902 and '551. Olchansky discloses all of the limitations of the instant invention including a frame 30, seat 132, means for providing a constant load utilizing resilient bands 40 and actuator 11, a bench.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6-8 and 73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Olchansky (both). Olchansky discloses all of the limitations of the invention except for a spiral pulley and cable, But Olchansky does teach in col. 5, lines 57 thru col. 6, lines 1-9 a mechanism positioned between the resistance engine relative to the constant load being changed. it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute Olchansky to include a mechanism for adjusting the constant load of the engine.
